ADVISORY

Subject: Advisory on Outdoor Major Surgeries in Medical Camps for Registered Medical Practitioners in Gujarat State

As the healthcare landscape evolves and expands, medical camps have become an integral part of reaching underserved populations in Gujarat State. These camps serve as vital platforms for providing medical care to those who may not have regular access to healthcare facilities. However, it's crucial to ensure that medical services provided in such camps maintain the highest standards of safety and efficacy.

This advisory aims to provide guidelines for registered medical practitioners conducting outdoor major surgeries in medical camps across Gujarat State.

1. The Gujarat Medical Council hereby issues an advisory recommending caution and prudence in conducting major surgeries in outdoor settings, particularly in medical camps, by registered medical practitioners in Gujarat State.
2. Registered medical practitioners are advised to carefully assess the suitability of outdoor environments for major surgical procedures, considering factors such as infrastructure, equipment availability, infection control measures, and access to emergency medical services.
3. Prior to conducting major surgeries in outdoor settings, registered medical practitioners are encouraged to consult with relevant healthcare authorities and experts to ensure compliance with established medical standards and guidelines.
4. While recognizing the potential benefits of medical camps in expanding access to healthcare services, registered medical practitioners are reminded of their duty to prioritize patient safety and quality of care in all medical interventions.
5. The Gujarat State Medical Council shall disseminate this advisory widely among registered medical practitioners and healthcare institutions through official channels, emphasizing the importance of exercising caution and professional judgment in the conduct of outdoor major surgeries.

We urge all registered medical practitioners involved in conducting outdoor major surgeries in medical camps to adhere strictly to these guidelines and prioritize patient safety at all times. Your commitment to maintaining high standards of medical care plays a crucial role in promoting public health and well-being across Gujarat State.

HON. REGISTRAR,
GUJARAT MEDICAL COUNCIL
